Computer Assistive Technology

John Cavano, Occupational Therapist

Jane Tong, Occupational Therapist

1150 S. Bascom Avenue #7A, San Jose 95128

408-278-2000

The source for accessibility solutions

Technology and Training Make the Difference

- In-house and mobile assistive technology center with various types of adapted keyboards/mice, alternative cursor controls, ergonomic equipment, voice recognition, learning differences software, etc.

- Goal: Provide individual evaluations and trainings using hardware and software solutions that results in greater success at work, school or for quality of life issues.

- Funded by foundation grants, the Department of Rehabilitation and private pay/fee for service.
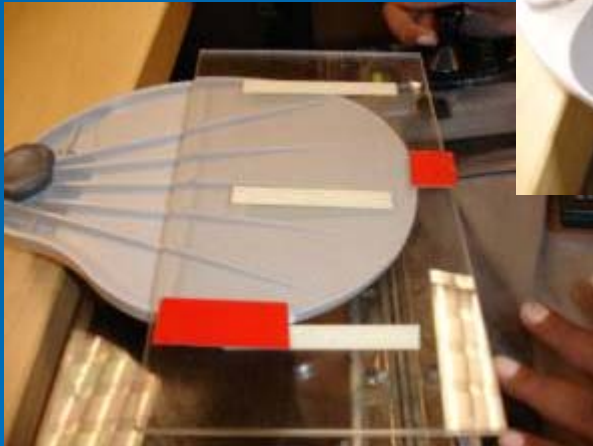

The source for accessibility solutions

Hardware Solutions

- Alternative mice and cursor controls
- Split keyboards

- Alternative keyboards
- Adaptive switches
- Adjustable workstations

The source for accessibility solutions
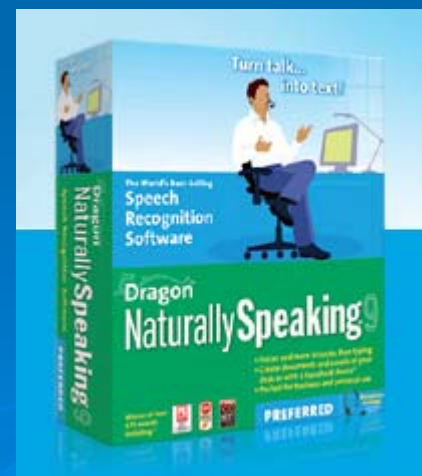

Mouse Tray Extension

Software Solutions

Learning Disability

➢ Kurzweil 3000

➢ Dragon NaturallySpeaking

➢ Inspiration

➢ Word Q

Vision Impairments

➢ Magnification Software

➢ Screen Reading Software

The source for accessibility solutions

Summary

➤ Client-centered approach

➤ Many accessibility options are already built-in to the computer

➤ Sometimes the simplest solution is the best solution

The source for accessibility solutions

TransAccess
The source for accessibility solutions

John Cavano
Ph: 408-278-2005
Email: jcavano@transaccess.org

Jane Tong
Ph: 408-278-2003
Email: jane@transaccess.org

1150 S. Bascom Avenue,
 Suite #7A
San Jose, CA 95128
T: 408-278-2000
F: 408-278-2010
www.transaccess.org

The source for accessibility solutions