Experimental Philosophy

Do tests of the intuitions of naïve survey-takers affect the plausibility of philosophical theories?

Publishing Negative Results - Psychology

Should negative results (failures to reject a null hypothesis) be published in a good psychology journal if the experiment is well designed and executed?

HCI as Art or Science?

Should designs be subjected to extensive user testing, or should emphasis be on developing good designers?

“Armchair” linguistics

Should unquantified researcher intuitions count as linguistic evidence?
