

CURRICULIM VITAE FOR BERNARDO A. HUBERMAN

Education

Ph. D in Physics, University of Pennsylvania, 1971

Ms. in Physics, University of Buenos Aires, Argentina, 1966

Positions Held

Director, Information Dynamics Laboratory, HP Laboratories, 2001-

HP Senior Fellow, 2001-

Consulting Professor. Department of Applied Physics, Stanford University 1980-

Consulting Professor. Symbolic Systems Program, Stanford University, 1988-

Manager, Dynamics of Computation Group, Xerox Parc, 1990-2000

Xerox Fellow, 1981-2000

Chairman, Council of Xerox Fellows, 1990-1995

Principal Scientist, Xerox PARC, 1977-1981

Member of the Research Staff, Xerox PARC, 1972-1977

Visiting Scientist. Institut Laue-Langevin, Grenoble, France, 1977

Visiting Professor. Institute of Theoretical Physics, Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel 1977

Visiting Professor. University of Paris, and the Ecole Normale Superieure, Paris, France 1988.

Visiting Professor. Niels Bohr Institute, Copenhagen, Denmark, 1993

Visiting Professor. European School of Business, INSEAD, France 1999.

Trustee. Aspen Center for Physics, 1980-1983

Secretary. Aspen Center for Physics, 1981

Honors

Fellow, American Association for the Advancement of Science

Fellow, Japan Society for the Advancement of Science

Fellow, American Physical Society

CECOIA Prize on Economics and Artificial Intelligence

IBM Prize of the Society for Computational Economics

Books published

“The Laws of the Web: Patterns in the Ecology of Information”, MIT Press 2001

“Computation: the micro and the macro view”, B. A. Huberman editor, World Scientific Publishing, 1992

“The Ecology of Computation”, B. A. Huberman, editor, North Holland Publishing, 1988