

The Department of History, Abbasi program in Islamic Studies and the Center for South Asia present

Faisal Devji

Associate Professor of Humanities, The New School, New York and Reader in Modern Indian Studies, Oxford University

“The End of Muslim Universality”

Thursday, March 12 at 5:00
Building 200, room 305

This lecture is open to the public

Additional discussion session for Stanford students and faculty

“Militant Islam and The Question of Humanity”

Friday, March 13 at 3:30
Building 200, room 302