

2nd SYMPOSIUM ON

CALL FOR PAPERS

PORTUGUESE FOR SPANISH SPEAKERS: ACQUISITION AND TEACHING Stanford University, Stanford, CA – March 17-19, 2006

Symposium Sponsors

Center for Latin American Studies
Stanford Language Center
Division of Literatures, Cultures and Languages
Stanford University
Chair: Lyris Wiedemann

Keynote speakers:

Milton M. Azevedo, University of California, Berkeley
Elizabeth Bernhardt, Stanford University.

Selection Committee:

Marianne Akerberg, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México; Severino Albuquerque, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI; Ana Maria Carvalho, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ; Maria Antonia Cowles, University of Pennsylvania; Danielle Grannier, Universidade de Brasília; John B. Jensen, Florida International University; Orlando Kelm, University of Texas, Austin; Dale Koike, University of Texas, Austin; Clea Rameh, Georgetown University; Matilde Scaramucci, Universidade Estadual de Campinas; Antônio R.M. Simões, University of Kansas; Carmen Chaves Tesser, Middlebury College and University of Georgia, Athens.

Round-Tables:

Table I – Past, Present and Future of Teaching of Portuguese for Spanish Speakers

Table II – Acquisition and Teaching of Phonetics and Phonology of Portuguese for Spanish Speakers

Table III – Acquisition and Teaching of Lexical, Syntactic and Morphological Components of Portuguese for Spanish Speakers

Table IV – Acquisition of Sociolinguistic Competence in Portuguese by Spanish Speakers

Table V – Assessment of Linguistic Proficiency in Portuguese for Spanish Speakers

Table VI – Linguistic Attitudes in the Context of Portuguese for Spanish Speakers

Table VII – The Voice of the Learner in Language Acquisition of Portuguese by Spanish Speakers.

Table VIII – The Other Side of the Coin: Spanish for Portuguese Speakers

Abstracts in English or Portuguese are invited for 20-minute presentations (plus 10 minutes of discussion), 400 words maximum, according to the round-tables specified above. We will also consider papers on different aspects of Port for SS. Submissions are limited to one individual and one joint abstract per author.

Abstracts submitted must represent original, unpublished research. Send an abstract, in a Word attachment via e-mail to nbarraza@stanford.edu AND lyriswie@stanford.edu (please use BOTH addresses). Please write “ABSTRACT” in the SUBJECT LINE, when sending by e-mail. By regular mail, send to: Lyris Wiedemann, Department of Spanish and Portuguese, Stanford University, Stanford, CA 94305-2014. In both cases, follow the following format:

First, write the author(s) name(s), affiliation, address, telephone, fax number, email address;

Second, write the panel title of your submission (I-VIII);

Third, write the title of the abstract followed by the abstract text.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: October 31, 2005

NOTIFICATION OF ACCEPTANCE: November 30, 2005

Check our website at <http://www.stanford.edu/dept/lc/portuguese/symposium.html>