

Anthony Aguilar
Conference Coordinator Associate

With over fourteen years of service, Anthony holds a long history in the hospitality services industry. Prior to his arrival at Stanford University, Anthony served as a corporate concierge for a variety of companies for about ten years. In his role as a corporate concierge, he served as meeting planner for small to very large programs, organizing every detail required for a successful event.

Along his career path in the events planning industry, Anthony has achieved numerous successes and acknowledgements for his professionalism and qualifications. Anthony is a graduate of San Jose State's Event and Meeting Planning Certificate Program, and he is progressing towards a Bachelors degree in Business Administration from the same institution. Additionally, Anthony serves as the Vice President and Director of Communications and Membership for the Silicon Valley Concierge Association.
