

STANFORD UNIVERSITY

COPYRIGHT RELEASE FOR SPEAKERS/PRESENTERS

This form is provided to you as a speaker in a course, seminar, lecture, or other presentation at Stanford University. Stanford would like to capture your presentation in audio and/or video format. To that end, we want to make certain that both you and the University have the necessary rights and protections to continue to benefit from your presentation. At the end of this process, a copyright release will be generated covering the captured presentation (“Recording”) and use of all accompanying materials (“Materials”).

Stanford will hold the copyright to the Recording and would like to have the option to continue to use the Recording and Materials. In addition to creating an archive copy for educational purposes, possible uses of the Recording include, but are not limited to, inclusion in Stanford websites, the creation of CDs or DVDs, and delivery to the public via distribution partners.

Stanford is committed to using your presentation in ways that make sense to you. To that end, we’ve partnered with Creative Commons, an organization that provides a standard license that we can attach to the Recording as directed by you. So, for example, if you want the Recording to be available for any non-commercial purpose, then through this online resource, you can make that happen.

Finally, please understand that there is nothing in this Speaker Release requiring you to give your ideas to Stanford. If you plan to give the same talk somewhere else, there is certainly nothing in this release that would keep you from that engagement. And, unless there is an exception called out to you by your Stanford host, Stanford is happy to provide a copy of the Recording to you and will grant you a non-exclusive license to use the Recording in any way you’d like.

- I acknowledge that this Release is governed by California law and is a legally binding agreement.

- I verify that I have authority to enter into this agreement and that I will be bound by its terms.

CREATIVE COMMONS LICENSING:

Stanford is committed to using your presentation in ways that make sense to you. To that end, we've partnered with Creative Commons, an organization that provides a standard license that we can attach to the Recording as directed by you.

Stanford has selected the CC license option which we feel offers the most sensible protection for the Recording of your presentation -- the "Attribution, Non-commercial, No Derivatives (by-nc-nd)" license. It allows people to download your works and share them with others as long as they give you credit for them, but they can't change them in any way or use them commercially. For more information about this license, you can read a plain language summary and view the legal code \(full license\).

By instructing us to attach this Creative Commons license to the Recording, it will be covered by the terms of this license. Moreover, Stanford also agrees to use and distribute the Recording under the terms of this license.

 Yes. I would like to attach the "Attribution, Non-commercial, No Derivatives" Creative Commons license to the Recording. I direct Stanford to use the Recording of my presentation under the terms of this license. I understand that Stanford University remains the copyright holder of the Recording.

 No. I do not wish for Stanford to attach a Creative Commons license to the Recording. I understand that Stanford is the copyright holder of the Recording and may use it for any purpose, including commercial purposes.

YOUR ACCOMPANYING MATERIALS:

Please complete this section to let us know about any accompanying materials (Materials) you may have for distribution with the Recording of your presentation. Examples include PowerPoint presentations, handouts, graphs or charts. If you later become aware of additional Materials or otherwise need to amend this list, please contact us at the email address provided at the end of this process.

Materials of which I am the sole copyright owner and for which I grant Stanford an exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable, transferable license to use in support of the Recording in any medium now known or hereafter created:

Materials of which I am NOT the sole copyright owner but have permission to use and to grant Stanford full use in support of the Recording in any medium now known or hereafter created:

Materials of which I am NOT the sole copyright owner but which fall within the fair use principles of copyright law to be distributed and used by myself and by Stanford in support of the Recording :

Materials of which I have not received express permission to use and of which I am unsure of the copyright implications:
