

STANFORD SEMINAR ON Science, TECHNOLOGY, AND Society

Fall 2009 Schedule

October 12 Barton Bernstein, Stanford University
“The Making of 'Atomic Bill' Laurence: Representing the Bomb and Defining its Early History”
Comment: Theodore Glasser, Communications

November 2 Max Dawson, Northwestern University
Joint with American Studies
“Digital Television and Technological Citizenship”
Comment: Fred Turner, Communications

November 9 Matthew Wisnioski, Virginia Tech
Joint with American Studies
“Engineers as Culture Warriors? Competing Visions of the Technological Society in 1960s America”
Comment: Bernard Roth, Mechanical Engineering

December 7 Wendy Espeland, Northwestern University
Joint with Scancor
3:00 –4:30 PM
527 CERAS Building
“Fear of Falling: How U.S. News Rankings Shape Legal Education in America”

Where Unless otherwise noted, seminars will be held in Encina Hall East 207, 616 Serra St., Stanford.

When 12:00 -1:30 pm. Please bring a bag lunch; drinks and light refreshments will be provided.

SPONSORED BY THE SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND SOCIETY PROGRAM.