

STANFORD SEMINAR ON

Science, TECHNOLOGY, AND Society

Spring 2009 Schedule

-
- April 10 Matthew Wolf-Meyer, UC Santa Cruz
“Therapeutically Normal: The Making of Modern Sleep and its Disorders”
Comment: Tanya Luhmann
-
- April 17 Anita Chan, Stanford University
“Enterprise Village: Entrepreneurial Artisans, Intellectual Property, and the Optimizing of Native Culture”
Comment: Sarah Jain
-
- April 24 Michael Lynch, Cornell University
“Nanoscale Images and Images of Nanoscale Objects”
Comment: Karin Knorr Cetina
-
- May 8 Jenny Reardon, UC Santa Cruz
“Finding Oprah’s Roots, Losing the World: Beyond the Liberal Anti-Racist Genome”
Comment: Sandra Soo-Jin Lee
-
- May 15 Carl DiSalvo, Georgia Institute of Technology
“Enabling Speculation and Argument: Community-based Participatory Design with Robotics and Sensing”
Comment: Selma Sabanovic

Where Encina Hall East, Room 207, 616 Serra St., Stanford.

When 12:00 -1:30 pm. Please bring lunch; drinks and light refreshments provided.

SPONSORED BY THE SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND SOCIETY PROGRAM.

Questions may be directed to rslayton@stanford.edu