

STANFORD IN WASHINGTON D.C. SAFETY, SECURITY & FIRE REPORT

October 1, 2011

This report has been compiled in compliance with the US federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act of 1998 (formerly the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990)

Safety on the Stanford in Washington D.C. (SIW) campus is a natural source of concern for students, parents and University employees. Education - the business of Stanford University - can take place only in an environment in which each student and employee feels safe and secure. Stanford recognizes this and employs a number of security measures to protect the members of its community. The local police force, and the students and employees themselves all share in the responsibility of making the SIW campus, specifically The Bass Center, a safe place to study, work and live.

SECURITY

Police Protection

Stanford In Washington is under the jurisdiction of the 2nd District - Police Service Area of the Washington D.C. Metropolitan Police Department. The 2nd District police station is located at 3320 Idaho Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. The phone number is (202) 282-0070. All statistics at the close of this document are supplied by the Director of SIW's program. Crime statistics for the entire 2nd District of Washington DC are a matter of public record and are available at the Police website:

http://mpdc.dc.gov/mpdc/cwp/view,a,1239,Q,544652,mpdcNav_GID,1535.asp

Timely Warnings

In the event that a situation arises, either on or off campus, that, in the judgment of the Director of Stanford in Washington, constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat to the community, an SIW wide "timely warning" will be issued. The warning may be issued through any means appropriate including: e-mail lists, phone calls, text messaging and notices or flyers, and if appropriate, the Stanford in Washington website:

<https://www.stanford.edu/dept/siw/cgi-bin/joomla/>. Anyone with information warranting a timely warning should report the circumstances to the Bass Center staff by phone, email, text message or in person.

Security and Access to Student Residences

The SIW Bass Center entrance doors have locking devices that can be opened by specially coded door cards issued to residents, and should be kept locked at all times. Exit-only doors cannot be opened from the outside. Most exterior doors have automatic closing devices. Student room doors can be locked or unlocked at the discretion of the occupant, and residents should keep their room doors locked at all times even if leaving the room for a short period of time. Security guards perform routine rounds throughout the residences and respond to any reports of problems.

When an exhibit has been installed in the Sant Building art gallery at Stanford in Washington, it is open to the public from 9:00 a.m. – 7:00 p.m. Monday – Friday and from 12:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. During these hours, a security guard is posted in the Sant Building gallery.

The security guard is responsible for checking the doors each night to ensure all are secured. Residents should stop and question any stranger in the house (e.g., "Can I help you with something?") and notify the security guard immediately of any suspicious activity.

REPORTING CRIME AND SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITY

Reporting Crime

All students, faculty, staff and visitors are encouraged to report all crimes and public safety related incidents to the police in a timely manner. Anytime you need immediate police, fire, or medical response, dial 9-1-1. For a non-emergency police response on campus, dial (202) 715-7300

Call 911 if you think a crime is in progress, which might be indicated by:

- A whistle, scream or call for help.
- A strange car repeatedly driving up and down the street.
- Seeing someone you don't know or recognize enter your neighbor's room or home, enter an office or lab with no apparent business or transaction, or loiter in a parking area or at a bike rack near your home, dorm, or work.

Remember that the police cannot be everywhere at once, and they depend on individuals in the community to assist them in crime prevention by reporting suspicious activities.

ALCOHOL, DRUGS, WORKPLACE VIOLENCE AND WEAPONS

University Policy on Controlled Substances and Alcohol

It is the policy of Stanford University to maintain a drug-free workplace on campus. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, and/or use of controlled substances or the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of alcohol is prohibited on the Stanford campus, in the work place, or as part of any University activities. The workplace and campus are presumed to include all Stanford premises where activities of the University are conducted. Violation of this policy will result in disciplinary sanctions up to and including termination of employment or expulsion of students. Violations may also be referred to the appropriate authorities for prosecution. This policy will be reviewed at least biannually. Please see Administrative Guide Memo 26.3 for the complete University Controlled Substance and Alcohol Policy http://adminguide.stanford.edu/23_6.pdf

The offices of the Dean of Students and Residential Education make available a detailed description of policies, applications, consequences of violation, criminal and civil liability, the role of residence staff, guidelines for event planners, and campus helping resources concerned with alcohol and its use on campus.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Education Programs

The Vaden Health Center provides a variety of education programs for drug and alcohol abuse prevention. Programs include educational activities, alcohol education seminars, individual consultation and an academic course. <http://vaden.stanford.edu/wellness/substanceAbuse.html>

Drinking and Driving

Besides the legal risks, you could be putting the lives of your friends in danger by letting them drive after drinking. If you plan on using alcohol, you should always designate a driver who will not be drinking.

University Policy on Violence in the Workplace

Stanford University strives to provide a safe environment in which to work; therefore, the university will not tolerate violence or threats of violence in any university facility where employees work. All weapons are banned from university premises unless written university policy gives permission. Employees who violate this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination. Employees who intentionally bring false charges will also be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination." Refer to Administrative Guide http://adminguide.stanford.edu/23_9.pdf

Weapons on Campus

- All weapons are prohibited on the Stanford and Stanford Branch Campuses. Except for sworn police officers or federal law enforcement officials. In addition to firearms, most knives that are capable of inflicting death by stabbing and all straight razors are prohibited. It is a crime to possess a knife with a rigid blade length of over two and one-half inches, or any dirk, dagger, or ice pick.
- Weapons are also prohibited in the academic area and student residence areas.

CAMPUS SECURITY AUTHORITIES

The US federal law known as the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act) requires "Campus Security Authorities" to report campus crime statistics to the Department of Education on an annual basis. At Stanford, the Department of Public Safety gathers and compiles the statistical information from all of the Campus Security Authorities.

"Campus Security Authorities," as specified by the Clery Act, include security and law enforcement officers; deans (or other senior student administrative personnel); coaches; residence hall staff; overseers and advisors to student clubs and organizations; and other campus officials who have "significant responsibility for student and campus activities," such as, but not limited to, student housing, student discipline and campus judicial proceedings. Professional and pastoral counselors are exempt from the reporting requirement while working within the scope of a license or certification.

Under the law, the Program Director of Stanford in Washington program is also considered to be campus security authority.

Campus Security Authorities provide STATISTICAL information only to the Stanford Department of Public Safety. This process does not include personal identifying information.

CRIME PREVENTION EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Crime prevention is a top priority at Stanford in Washington. During orientation the issues of general safety, student conduct, sexual harassment and substance abuse are reviewed.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE AND EVACUATION

In the event of a significant emergency or dangerous situation on campus that involves an immediate threat to the health or safety of the population, Stanford in Washington will initiate, without delay, use of email, phone calls, text messaging, and in person notification upon confirmation by first responders of the significant emergency or dangerous situation. Taking into account the safety of the community, the notification will be sent to everyone, unless issuance of the notification will, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency. The content of the message will vary depending on the situation. The people who can initiate an emergency message include the Program Director, the Assistant Director, the Program Coordinator, the Finance and Facilities Manager and the Resident Assistant.

Regularly scheduled drills, exercises, and appropriate follow-up activities, designed for system assessment will be conducted each year. Emergency Evacuation plans and maps are posted in each door room.

FIRE SAFETY

Stanford in Washington has installed new sprinklers and smoke detectors throughout the Bass Center and Sant Building. In addition, the fire protection company SimplexGrinnell, monitors the building through the fire alarm and smoke detector control panel installed in the Bass Center.

If a fire emergency exists, activate the building alarm and call 911 immediately.

Emergency Fire and Evacuation Procedures from the Stanford in Washington Orientation:

Students and staff are given a tour of the Bass Center and the Sant Building to learn the locations of fire exits in the buildings and the location of fire extinguishers and alarm systems.

If the alarm sounds, all fire doors will automatically close. Residents and staff are to leave the building immediately and meet by the bus stop on the corner of Connecticut and Woodley in front of the building. The elevator will not operate during a fire emergency, so students and staff are to use either the front or the back stairs. The fire department automatically arrives and SimplexGrinnell automatically notifies the staff if the fire alarm sounds.

If someone tampers with the red fire alarm pull devices, the sprinklers or the smoke detectors and the alarm goes off accidentally (and it will) the fire department will respond, as will the fire monitoring company SimplexGrinnell.

Stanford in Washington strictly forbids students of the following in the Bass Center or the Sant Building:

1. Portable electrical appliances
2. Smoking
3. Open flames

MISSING PERSON POLICY

If you believe someone might be missing, notify the Program Director, the Assistant Director, the Program Coordinator, the Resident Assistant, or any faculty or staff member of Stanford in Washington as soon as possible. SIW staff in receipt of information that a student may be missing, should immediately report the matter to the local police and call the Stanford Department of Public Safety and the Residence Deans office as soon as possible.

The Stanford Department of Public Safety can be reached 24-hours per day, seven days per week by calling the on-duty Watch Commander at +1-650-924-3209 or the Palo Alto/Stanford Communications Dispatch Center at +1- 650-329-2413. The Department of Public Safety will notify University Officials.

US Federal law mandates that the University provide students with an option of specifying person(s) to contact in the event that he or she has been determined by the police to be a missing person. An option will be given to students to specify this person when they perform the Registrar's annual online check-in procedure. Federal law also requires the University to inform students that an emergency contact will be notified within (24) hours of the person being reported as missing. For non-emancipated minors, a custodial parent or guardian will be notified in addition to any listed emergency contact(s).

In addition to the minimum notifications that will be made under federal law, Stanford may make additional notifications as necessary as provided by FERPA to resolve a safety emergency; this could include notifying parents or guardians even when they were not specifically listed by a student as an emergency contact.

SEXUAL ASSAULT

Sexual Assault is the commission of an unwanted sexual act, whether by an acquaintance or by a stranger, that occurs without indication of consent of both individuals, or that occurs under threat or coercion. Sexual assault can occur either forcibly and / or against a person's will, or when a person is incapable of giving consent. A person is legally incapable of giving consent if under 18 years of age; if intoxicated by drugs and/or alcohol; if developmentally disabled; or if temporarily or permanently mentally or physically unable to do so. Anyone can be the target of sexual assault, regardless of age, gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, sexual history, or social class. There is no stereotypical victim or rapist. Acquaintances (people who know each other in some way) are involved in 67% rapes in America.¹ A Department of Justice study indicates that a woman has between a 20 and 25% chance of being sexually assaulted during her years at college ².

Prevention - Evaluate and Communicate Your Intentions

It is important that you decide for yourself what you want to happen in intimate situations. Both women and men should consider the following:

- Pay close attention to what is happening around you. Clearly communicate your desires, limits, and intentions to your date, partner, or friend.
- Intercourse constitutes rape when a person is under the influence of any intoxicating or controlled substance and is thereby prevented from giving informed consent. Be aware that alcohol and other drugs can impair your judgment, and make you slow or unable to react to unwanted sexual contact or escape from a dangerous situation.
- Consent is "positive cooperation in an act or attitude pursuant to an exercise of free will."
- Previous sexual contact, regardless of frequency, does not constitute consent for sexual activity in the present or future. A current or previous dating relationship does not constitute the basis for implied consent either.
- Do not assume that sexual intercourse is permissible if a person is dressed in a certain way.
- Being turned down for sexual activity is not necessarily a personal rejection.
- "No" means "No."

Prevention - Education

- Stanford Sexual Assault Prevention Programs works to prevent sexual violence and harassment through education, awareness, and skill building. Programs include educational seminars, resource information and referral, and the new student orientation theatrical production Real World: Stanford.
<http://vaden.stanford.edu>
- The Health Library is a comprehensive resource center that contains journals, books, and videos on a wide range of contemporary college health issues including sexual assault.
- Self-Defense Workshops -- Student instructors teach co-ed self-defense workshops on campus. Classes are two hours long and cover physical and verbal tactics for preventing sexual assault.
<http://vaden.stanford.edu>
- Stanford Health Improvement Program (HIP, 723-9649) – At various times throughout the calendar year, HIP offers classes and seminars for university employees in personal safety and self-defense.

If You Have Been Sexually Assaulted

The first priority is your immediate safety. Don't be afraid to seek medical attention or ask for help. You have options. You are strongly encouraged to seek professional assistance and guidance.

If You Need Medical Attention

- For life threatening conditions,
 - Call 911 - or -
 - Go to the nearest hospital Emergency Department.

Please Note: Medical Personnel in the US are required by law to make a report to the appropriate law enforcement agency when treating injuries resulting from any violent criminal act. Seeking medical treatment does not obligate the injured person to report sexual assault or file charges.

² Fisher et al., 2000

If You Aren't Sure What to Do - Explore Your Options

A person who has experienced a sexual assault is encouraged to obtain information, support and counseling. Counselors at a variety of agencies, both on and off campus, can help a person decide which steps to take such as: seeking medical attention, preserving evidence, obtaining counseling or reporting to the police. Remember -- you are not to blame. No one deserves to be assaulted.

The University will make every effort reasonably possible to preserve an individual's privacy and protect the confidentiality of information. The degree to which confidentiality can be protected depends upon the professional role of the person being consulted. An individual may speak confidentially with certain persons in legally protected roles. These confidential resources include: counselors at the YWCA Sexual Assault Center at Stanford, the Help Center, Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS), medical clinicians and clergy. State law permits law enforcement authorities to keep confidential the identity of a person officially reporting a sexual assault. The Stanford Department of Public Safety maintains such confidentiality.

- Students, faculty and staff may consult the following confidential resources:
 - The YWCA Sexual Assault Center at Stanford

University Sanctions Against Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment Offenders

- For Stanford University faculty and staff, possible sanctions for proved violations range from censure to dismissal from the University. For students, the process and procedures governing disciplinary cases of a sensitive nature can be found on the Judicial Affairs website <http://www.stanford.edu/dept/vpsa/judicialaffairs/judicialprocess/arp.htm>. The Judicial Affairs Office (JAO) will investigate formal complaints of sexual assault and sexual misconduct. The JAO will file disciplinary charges if evidence supports the allegation. For violations that have been proved, possible sanctions range from censure to expulsion from the University. Furthermore, after an alleged sex offense has occurred, Stanford will change a survivor's academic and living situation if he or she requests it and the request can be reasonably accommodated. The accuser and the accused are entitled to due process, including the right to be accompanied by a person of his or her choice at all stages of the disciplinary process and the right to the same information regarding the outcome of the disciplinary proceedings.

- Judicial policy applies year-round to all on-campus activities, and to any acts that threaten the safety and integrity of the University community regardless of where such acts occur.

- In some cases, sexual assault also may constitute sexual harassment. See Administrative Guide Memo 23.2, http://adminguide.stanford.edu/23_2.pdf for the procedures to follow to make a complaint of sexual harassment. For more information, please refer to the Stanford University Sexual Harassment Homepage at <http://harass.stanford.edu>.

Reporting a Sexual Assault to the Police

We encourage people to report sexual assaults to the police. Reporting a sexual assault to the police may seem intimidating, but you don't need to feel scared or embarrassed. Explore your options with someone from the YWCA before contacting the police. Bring a friend or advocate with you when you speak with the police. Reporting a crime can help you regain a sense of personal power and control.

Contact the local police department

- For a sexual assault that occurs on a Stanford branch campus
- For an off-campus sexual assault

This sexual Assault Section was written in compliance with the 1992 Higher Education Amendments, which has mandated requirements for preventing, reporting, and investigating sex offenses that occur on campus. Portions of this section were taken from Administrative Guide Memo 23.3 Sexual Assault.

AVAILABILITY OF THE ANNUAL SAFETY, SECURITY & FIRE REPORT

Each year email notification is made to all students and employees that provide the web site address to access this report. The report can also be accessed on the BOSP website. A paper copy of the report is available upon request by contacting The Department of Public Safety at +1-650-723-9633 or sending an email to PublicSafety@lists.stanford.edu.

JEANNE CLERY ACT CRIME STATISTICS

The procedures for preparing the annual disclosure of crime statistics include: (1) collecting and reporting statistics on crimes committed on the Bass Center property from the Metropolitan Police Department for the District of Columbia; and (2) compilation of incident reports filed with SIW security authorities. Crime statistics reported to any of these sources are included in the Clery Act report for the calendar year in which the crime was reported. In addition to this report, the statistics are reported by the Stanford Clery Coordinator to the Department of Education with the Stanford in Washington Program listed as a branch campus.
