

CHARISMATIC MODERNISMS

IN CELEBRATION OF GREGORY FREIDIN

Saturday, October 17, 2015
Stanford Humanities Center

Grisha Freidin and Joseph Brodsky, 1973

9:50 AM Opening

Katya Hokanson, University of Oregon

Judith Kalb, University of South Carolina

10:00 AM – 12:00 PM Media and Language

Chair: Amelia Glaser, University of California, San Diego

"The Charismatic Kino Eye"

Anne Eakin Moss, Johns Hopkins University

"Kadyrov on Instagram: Mediating Authority in a Web 2.0 World"

Michael Gorham, University of Florida

"Russian National Identity in Crisis: Reading and Creating Maksimilian Voloshin"

Marianna Landa, University of Maryland

"Center and Periphery in Contemporary Language and Cultural Immersion Abroad for Russian in Federal Language Programs"

Sam Eisen, The Language Flagship Program, NSEP

12:00 – 1:00 PM Lunch break

1:00 – 3:00 PM Gender and the Body

Chair: Tom Roberts, University of Colorado

"Charisma or Camp? Gender in Putin's Russia"

Julie Cassiday, Williams College

"Charisma, Art, and Bodily Risk: from Futurism to Pussy Riot"

Kevin Platt, University of Pennsylvania

"The Public Life of Olga Sedakova"

Martha Kelly, University of Missouri

3:30-5:30 PM Representation and Authority

Chair: Jason Cieply, Stanford University

"David Shterenberg's Laden Tables"

Darra Goldstein, Williams College

"Silver Age Homers"

Judith Kalb, University of South Carolina

"Charismatic Virtue: Tolstoy, Blavatsky and Gandhi and the Circulation of Spirituality"

Katya Hokanson, University of Oregon

"After Charisma: Illegitimate Modernism and the Russian Interwar Emigration, 1918-1940"

Luke Parker, Oberlin College

5:30 PM Closing

Martha Kelly, University of Missouri

Anne Eakins Moss, Johns Hopkins University

6:00 PM Dinner

7:00-9:00 PM Roundtable: The Charisma of Gregory Freidin

Chair: Katya Hokanson, University of Oregon

Elif Batuman

Katerina Clark, Yale University

Nancy Condee, University of Pittsburgh

Luba Golburt, University of California, Berkeley

Eric Naiman, University of California, Berkeley

William Mills Todd III, Harvard University

& Other Speakers

We gratefully acknowledge the support of the Stanford Dean's Office, the Center for Russian, East European, and Eurasian Studies, the Humanities Center, and the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures.

