Dear Paulraj:

Although, as a group, we thanked you for the wonderful job you did organizing the IC³SP Conference to honor Tom, I want to thank you personally for this important contribution to our profession and to all of the participants, individually. For me, this was the single most rewarding professional event of my life. I have always been in awe of Tom, and he has been my most admired role model for over 20 years, but the widening of my perspective on him provided by this conference has deepened even further my longstanding gratitude for having the good fortune to be among those with whom Tom has given of himself.

Thank you, and best wishes.

Sincerely,
